

Petsto comics #0: Common shenanigans

AIRIGHT!
Why the hell is Tank a prince?

Princes cause destruction through their aspect.
Oh really? HOW?
They are an attack class.
Right, so is that all you got to compare it to a wicked weapon on wheels, packing a large cannon and plate armor.

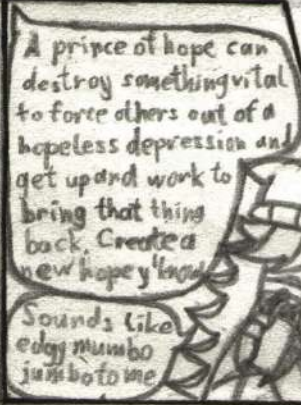

Princes can destroy in such a way that allows for a more favourable outcome too.
A prince of heart may break someone's heart and breakup in order for that someone to find better relationships.

I already do that with my Human Cannonball attack.

HAH! Tanks are professionals at breaking hearts!
Even more, when they're laid-back!
Ya ain't SPECIAL!

A prince of hope can destroy something vital to force others out of a hopeless depression and get up and work to bring that thing back. Create a new hopey know?

Sounds like edgy numbo jumbotome

Look who's talking?
Shut up.

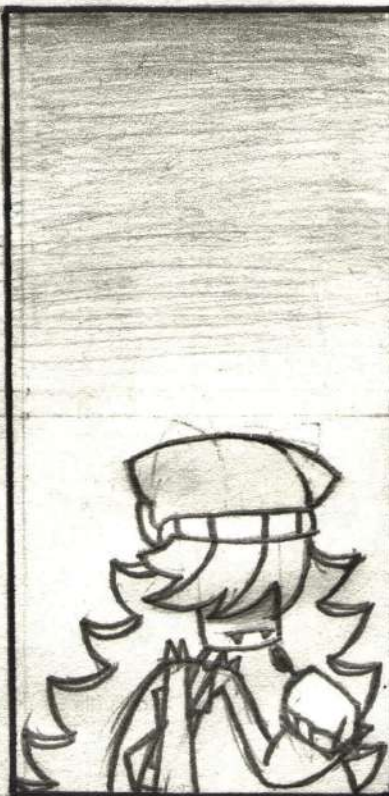

At Least the fan adventures don't have to be so moody.

WHY Should I care for the fanworks when I don't care for the OFFICIAL MATERIAL?!

Alright alright, I'll give you another shot to convince me. Princes GOTTA have a cool unique weapon to their class right? Like a trident or—

Your weapon can be any weapon.

So no cool weapon?

A tank is a weapon.

SO! Princes are an attack class that specialize in destruction of not only enemies but also their friends too, in overly edgy and dramatic ways. They don't have a weapon you could build off of so you have to make one up yourself.

MEANWHILE! Tanks are a job that also cause destruction on the same way as princes just without the goofy angst. AND they have a unique weapon to their job, THE CANNON! It does all sorts of cool things and it has LASERS!

Oh but so WHAT?? Let's go back and see how we first described them! YOU said princes are an attack class that cause destruction through their ispect.

And I said tanks are AND I QUOTE: a wicked weapon on wheels, packing a large cannon and plate armor.

I don't know about you Seri.

... but I'd rather be a wicked weapon with a sweet cannon instead of a destructive little edgy prince who attacks with a homemade weapon.
